Dear Ms Brown,

I refer to your letter of 25 July 2022. I have been asked to respond on behalf of the Lord Advocate.

I note you are requesting an update in respect of the status of the investigation into the matter you reported to the police on 20 January 2022. I have been advised by Police Scotland that there has been no investigation in relation to the incident you raised as the police have assessed, based on the information that you provided, that no crime has been committed as it did not provide evidence sufficient to justify an investigation into potential fraud having been perpetrated by the First Minister, the former Cabinet Secretary for Health and Support or any other named parties.

Accordingly, no report will be submitted to COPFS and, unless any new and significant information or evidence comes to light, no investigation will be opened.

I appreciate that this outcome will be disappointing but please be assured that the police carefully considered the information provided to them on 20 January 2022 and subsequently on 26 April 2022 in reaching this conclusion.

Yours sincerely,

Angela Farrell
